EYEWITNESS' CONSCIENCE MAY FREE AN INNOCENT MAN IMPRISONED FOR OVER A DECADE, IN TIME FOR CHRISTMAS

New York, December 18, 2007: Attorneys Ron Kuby and David Pressman will appear in Supreme Court, Bronx County tomorrow for final arguments in their effort to exonerate Michael Clancy, an innocent man who has been imprisoned for over a decade for a murder he did not commit.

Tomorrow's argument follows the candid, credible, and compelling testimony of David Prieto, a former federal informant and eyewitness to the March 30, 1997 murder of his friend, John Buono. Mr. Prieto testified in a sealed courtroom on September 20, 2007. His testimony was subsequently unsealed.

Mr. Prieto repeatedly told various prosecutors at various points that he had information about the man actually responsible for the Buono killing. However, these leads were never pursued by the authorities and Prieto's precarious personal situation—at one point, facing the death penalty—prevented him from personally testifying on Mr. Clancy's behalf. Until now.

David Prieto, offered nothing in return, came forward to, in his words, "make it right." It is now the Court's turn to "make it right" for Michael Clancy. It is time for Michael Clancy to be freed.

Oral argument will be held at the Supreme Court of New York, Bronx County, 851 Grand Concourse, Courtroom 704, before Hon. Denis J. Boyle, at 10:00 a.m.

Background on Mr. Clancy's story can be found via links on our website www.kubylaw.com.

Copies of the motion papers are available upon request.
